2026 Indian Mango Season Announcement

Savani Farms – Bringing the Aroma of India to America

Dear ~~Valued Customer~~, Mango Lover

Summer has arrived in India, and we are excited to announce that the 2026 Indian Mango Season is now open!

Let Savani Farms bring the sweet aroma and unforgettable taste of authentic Indian mangoes directly to your table.

Savani Farms is proud to be a pioneer in bringing Indian mangoes to the United States after the historic lifting of the U.S. import ban. We work closely with small farmers across India, who carefully cultivate and hand-pick the finest mangoes to share with mango lovers in America. For many in the Indian and South Asian diaspora, mangoes are more than a fruit, they are a memory of home, culture, family gatherings, and summer celebrations. Today, these beloved mangoes are also being discovered and enjoyed by American consumers who appreciate exotic premium fruits.

How to Order

Please visit our website and register your order today.

Before shipping, our team will contact you via phone, text, or email to confirm your order, and your card will only be charged after your confirmation.

To ensure smooth communication, we kindly request that you provide both your email and direct phone number when placing your order.

Your contact information will always remain confidential.

Group Orders – Best Value

We also encourage group orders for friends, family, and community groups.

Group shipments can be delivered to the nearest airport cargo facility, allowing you to receive very fresh mangoes while significantly saving on shipping costs.

Supporting Small Farmers

Your purchase supports small farming communities across rural India.

Every box of mangoes helps farmers continue traditional mango cultivation and supports rural livelihoods.

Together, we are building a bridge between Indian farmers and mango lovers in America.
